

Statement under Article 19(1)

The amendment to the claims makes it clear that the overgrowth of the isolating layer (11) serves to fill the depression (14). This serves to ensure a substantially dislocation-free area of semiconducting material within the depression (14). There is no disclosure of this feature in the cited documents.